ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

1874.

CITY OF BOSTON.

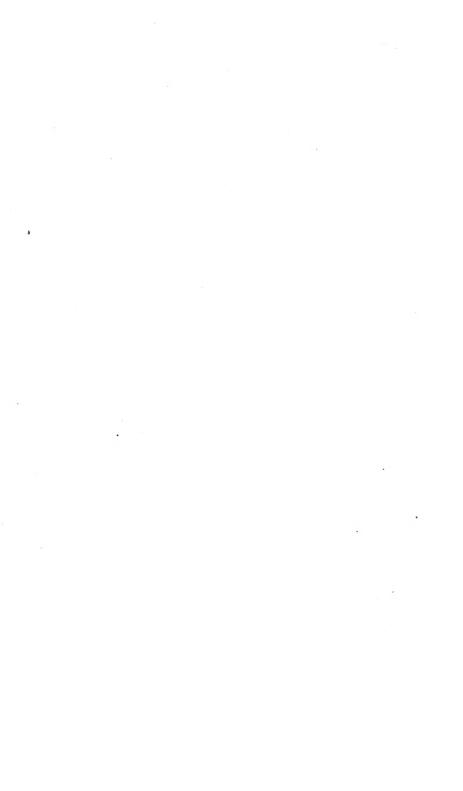

Public Library, July 10, 1874.

His Honor, Samuel C. Cobb, Mayor of the City of Boston:
Sir,—I have the honor to transmit to you, herewith, the Twenty-second Annual Report of the Trustees of the Public Library, prepared in obedience to the fourth section of the Ordinance of 1869, relative to the Public Library.

Very respectfully,

JUSTIN WINSOR,

Secretary of the Board of Trustees.

TWENTY-SECOND ANNUAL REPORT

TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

In conformity with the requirements of the fourth section of an Ordinance concerning the Public Library, passed September 21, 1869, the Trustees have the honor to present to the City Council their Twenty-second Annual being the fifth made under the new Ordinance, and including the results of administration for the year ending on the 30th April last.

The reports of the Examining Committee and of the Superintendent of the Library are herewith appended.

The Examining Committee appointed in conformity with the Ordinance, consisted of W.C. Collar, Esq., Dr. Thomas B. Curtis, Rev. Charles E. Grinnell, Hon. Francis B. Hayes, Hon. Geo. Lunt, with the President of the Board as Chairman. This Committee, appointed at the usual time, selected from citizens at large, was unable, from various personal engagements, to attend to the duties assigned them, until the month of June was nearly over. Their Report passes in review the administration of the Library as performing its functions of circulation and consultation, and examines the relations of the Superintendent and of the administrative force of the institution to the work of extending, so far as practicable, the uses of the Library to all classes of the population. It is gratifying to the Board of Trustees that they speak in such a favorable manner of the whole system of management and its results.

Of the Superintendent's Report, hereto annexed, it may justly be said that, with its Appendixes, it furnishes the full account of the manifold operations of the Library during the year, and embraces in systematic arrangement the facts important to the public and to kindred institutions. With the addition of the Branches, the tabulations increase annually in extent and value, and are already recognized at home and abroad as among the best contributions to library statistics. A full examination of these pages is essential in order to obtain even in a moderate degree a comprehension of the nature of the work performed in the various departments of administration, and also of the character of its relations to the various communities which it now serves.

It is gratifying to state that all the recommendations with regard to the building made by the Trustees to the City Council have been substantially met; and that its safety from fire both from without and within is, so far as practicable, secured. When the house and grounds adjacent to the Library, purchased in 1872 as a provision needed for its extension, are used for the purposes required, still further security will be obtained.

The Branch service of the institution continues to perform its important and popular functions. During the past year the Roxbury Branch, in connection with the Fellowes Athenaum, entered upon its work, and by the annexation of Charlestown and Brighton the Trustees received as a portion of their responsibilities the charge of the free Libraries already established in those precincts. The regulations and by-laws controlling the principal Library and also the Branches already in operation, have been extended to the government of these accessions, and in time all the details of administration will conform to one common system. The arrangements for proper supervision on the part of the Trustees and of the Superintendent have been carefully made, so that the necessary attention shall be given to the peculiar and separate necessities of the smaller libraries. In this connection it cannot be too strongly impressed upon these different communities now united as one whole under the general title of the City of Boston, that it is the earnest desire of this Board, as well as the best policy of the institution, that each Branch and local Library shall be so far the object of esteem and appreciation to the neighborhood to which it ministers, that it shall be the recipient of such measure of benefaction by gift or bequest as generosity may impel, with the certainty that every donation will be faithfully bestowed upon the object in the manner designated.

These popular arms of the Library, including the Lower Hall collection in Boylston street, now contain in the aggregate over 80,000 volumes, and they distributed to readers last year 553,129 books. The great consulting and reference Library in Bates Hall, numbering about 180,000 volumes, was used by 72,313 visitors, exclusive of the examinations made of the Patent Documents. This enormous aggregate of 625,442 of circulation and use includes ten months of the Roxbury Branch, and four months' administration of the Charlestown and Brighton Branches. The largest proportional circulation of books has been at the South Boston Branch, where each volume went out on the average a fraction over nineteen times.

To the total number of volumes in all the collections given in the last report, 209,456, there has been added during the year the unprecedented number of 51,094 volumes, an increase of nearly twenty-five per cent., making a grand total of 260,550 volumes. This is mainly due to the accession of the Charlestown Library, with its 15,788 volumes, of the Holton

Library at Brighton, with 11,037 volumes, and of the 12,057 volumes of the Barton Library. These additions in value and importance are not exceeded, if equalled, in the previous annual growth of the institution.

The purchase of the Barton Library, of which the details were given in the last annual report, has proved, on fuller examination, to have been even more fortunate than was anticipated. Aside from the great value of its Shakespearian treasures, the extent and variety of its rare works and of its noble specimens of printing and binding, will make it in the future one of the most attractive points of an institution which has heretofore enjoyed but few opportunities of placing upon its shelves works of similar rarity and value. It will properly be deposited in a room in the new fire-proof addition to the Library building now in process of erection, and to be completed in the late autumn.

The Superintendent of the Library has rendered an invaluable service to the institution and to the community in directing by means of the last Class List in History, Biography, and Travel, the attention of readers to a better order of books than the unassisted knowledge of the great majority of people would have attained. Those who simply read for amusement or occupation will find their objects equally accomplished by a higher grade of literature, if the books can be placed within easy reach. The increased application for better books, due to the last improvements of the modern catalogue, forms a most encouraging feature of the statistics of the free library service during the year just finished. The epigram applied to Dr. Johnson, that he was "a robust genius, born to grapple with whole libraries," finds its modern application in the much improved and speedier processes by which the unlearned, no less than the skilled reader, may easily ascertain the contents of the various departments of the Library.

In this connection, the Trustees are happy to announce that the long and difficult work of cataloguing the Ticknor Library has been accomplished, and that the Index will go to press in the autumn. A suitable catalogue of so rich and important a collection of Spanish and Portuguese books will form an addition to the bibliography of those languages, most desirable to scholars on both sides of the Atlantic.

But these and other results are not attained without systematized and concentrated labor and skill. The Public Library, with its Branches, employs in the various departments of its work 103 persons. These are necessary to bring up the continuous record to date, to meet the daily demand upon the general resources of the institution, to continue the prompt production of the new books for the purposes of circulation, to provide immediate answer to the questions of inquirers, to do the steady solid work of the cataloguers, and to cover the multifarious calls of an organization which necessarily includes for the use of books a larger instrumentality than has hitherto been attempted.

The City Council have made the requisite pecuniary provision for such immediate addition to the building, as will not only suffice for the present necessities of the institution, but will conform also to the prospective needs of the future. The extension and enlargement of the south-west tower will give to the Library the accommodation temporarily required for its binding department, for working rooms for a portion of the staff now scattered among the alcoves and galleries, for the Superintendent and the Board of Trustees, for a fire-proof place of deposit for not only the Prince and Barton Libraries, but also for the card catalogues, and for the invaluable series of American, English, and French Patent Reports. This new erection will make absolutely safe from fire large classes of costly works, including many either not easily obtainable, or almost priceless from rarity, and which constitute no inconsiderable part of the value of a collection rapidly becoming of national importance.

The statistics of the various reading-rooms show the results reached by this attractive service. So large an amount of intellectual activity has been attached to the apparently ephemeral form of periodical literary production during the past twenty years, that it not unnaturally holds out a strong inducement to readers to obtain by this means, by a moderate amount of exertion, the facts, theories and opinions prominent at the present time in the various departments of art and literature, and to ascertain the latest developments and their value in poetry and fiction. For the most part, it is noticeable that periodicals indicate possibly more quickly than the statistics of circulation the tastes, objects of inquiry and of daily interest, about which each district cares.

Of the Sunday service, it may in general be said that it is not a distinguished success. But to attain this high point in the uses of the institution, no such result is necessary. The fact to be considered is simply whether the use is equivalent in value to the necessary expenditure, and this again is complicated by the question whether the cost of its maintenance is in due proportion to the available resources; but neither of these pecuniary considerations is of sufficient importance at the present time to produce in the minds of the Trustees any question as to the propriety of the continuance of the service. So far as the main and the most extensive reading-room in Boylston street is concerned, observation of the attendance indicates that a very considerable proportion of the frequenters consists of persons who do not or cannot visit the Library on ordinary week-days, such as reporters, mechanies, and those who work early and late in their daily vocation, without the opportunity of any convenient access to the weekly and monthly issues proceeding from the In respect to the Branches, this need does not yet appear to have developed itself to the same extent, and it is yet a question not entirely solved whether any proportional necessity exists for the continuance of the services in their districts.

In concluding this Report, the Trustees can simply say they have endeavored to discharge their duties as prescribed by the Ordinance in extending the uses of the institution as largely as practicable to the inhabitants of Boston. But, in approaching this result, the inevitable conclusion has followed that, in so doing, the Library has become of large importance to numerous classes elsewhere. By the directions of the City Government, its privileges have been extended to numerous individuals, whose use of the same directly tended to the advancement of letters. It is impossible in this day and generation to shut up books, or to say that they shall not be used by any individual to whom they are necessary for special work or general progress in knowledge, simply because they are the trust property of neighboring or remote communities. A book never accomplishes the object of its production unless in the hands of some one who wants it. If any books on our shelves are not habitually needed by our own citizens, it is the part of an enlightened intelligence to endeavor to secure in the future such other safe loaning as shall not cause an increase of expense beyond a point which the City Council may consider as a just contribution on their part to the cultivation of the communities which surround us, and which contribute directly or indirectly to the growth of our metropolis. The Free Library of the City of Manchester, though more limited in its general aims than our Library, distributes its books through several English counties.

But whether this further development may or may not be considered consistent or appropriate, there is no question on the part of the Trustees that the institution has never more fully responded o the demands made upon its resources than during the year of which the relation is now given. That it may continue to live up to the intellectual, moral and social requirements of the large population which it serves, with the immunity of its property, which is the key and guaranty of its circulation, is a large desire for the future, which it is hoped may be abundantly and trustfully met.

REPORT OF THE EXAMINING COMMITTEE,

Consisting of William W. Greenough, Esq., Chairman, with William C. Collar, Esq., Thomas B. Curtis, M. D., the Rev. Charles E. Grinnell, the Hon. Francis B. Hayes, and the Hon. George Lunt, as citizens at large.

The Committee appointed under an Ordinance in relation to the Public Library passed in September, 1869, to examine the Library, and make a report of its condition to the Trustees, respectfully report:—

The Library has continued to increase rapidly, 51,094 volumes having been added during the last Library year, and the total number of books now reaches 260,550. The number of volumes contained in the Bates Hall has advanced from 149,477 to 166,453; the collection in the Lower Hall, on the other hand, shows a slight diminution, the number of books having fallen from 32,605, to 32,596.

The rapid and steady growth of the Library is not the only subject of congratulation which this institution affords to its friends. The total circulation, comprising issues for home and hall use, has increased even more rapidly than the number of volumes. If we examine the figures set forth in the statistical tables, which constitute the appendices to the very valuable and interesting report of the Superintendent of the Library, we find that, during the last three years, the total number of issues for the entire Library has been, successively, in 1872, 380,343; in 1873, 467,855; and in 1874, 625,442. Now, if for each of these three years, we divide the total number of books contained in the Library, by the number which represent the daily average of issues, we obtain a fraction which may be taken to represent the working efficiency of the Library, showing in what proportion its available resources are daily called into play. Thus for the year 1872, the fraction so obtained is $\frac{1}{156}$, which signifies that during that year one book out of every 156 books was issued daily. For the year 1873, a similar arithmetical process gives the fraction $\frac{1}{137}$; and for the Library year just expired, the fraction is $\frac{1}{128}$, or, if we subtract the number of volumes comprised in the Barton Library, which are not yet in use, we get the fraction $\frac{1}{122}$, which represents the daily use of the Library. It is thus evident, that while the number of volumes increases from year to year, the total circulation of these volumes increases still more rapidly. This interesting and eminently satisfactory result must, no doubt, be attributed partly to the increased facilities for circulation due to the various improvements introduced in the management of the Library, and to the growing efficiency of the more numerous staff placed under the orders of the Superintendent, and partly to the educational influence exerted by the Library upon the public.

This influence of the Library upon the community opens a very interesting subject of research, and one in regard to which the statistics collected and arranged under the direction of the Superintendent give valuable information, of a most encouraging nature for those who wish to see the literary taste of the public mind raised above its past and present level. It has long been a subject of regret to all who were interested in the Library, that the proportion of merely amusing reading should have been so very large, compared with the use made of the more valuable resources of the Library. Thus, the Lower Hall collection, now comprising 32,596 volumes, of which more than one-third (11,858 volumes) consists of books classified under the heading of "English prose and juvenile fiction," etc., presents a total yearly circulation reaching 253,097 issues, while the total yearly circulation of the Bates Hall collection, numbering 166,453 volumes, is represented by 72,313 issues. The disproportionate use of these two collections made by the public is very striking, and at first sight very unsatisfactory, when we consider the difference of character of the books which they respectively contain. Each report of preceding Examining Committees has touched upon this subject, and regret has been expressed each year, at the continued and excessive predominance of novel-reading over other forms of literary culture. Your Examining Committee of the year 1874 was also, at first sight, struck by this phenomenon, which mature reflection, assisted by the explanations kindly offered by the Superintendent, showed to be an unavoidable, and not altogether undesirable result of the principles upon which the Library is managed. The main object of our Library is to supply the public at large, of every grade, with such books as it desires, and with the reservation that manifestly bad or vicious books are excluded. This programme is well earried out; books that are asked for, if unobjectionable on the score of immorality, are usually obtained, and if the demand for any particular book exceed the supply, additional copies are got, that no applicant need be denied in the long run what he seeks for at the Library. This policy is pursued in accordance with the conviction entertained by those who have charge of the management of the Library, that in any individual case, novel-reading, or any kind of reading, of however trivial a character, is better than no reading at all, and that books, even of the lightest order, exert upon those who can appreciate no higher kind of literature, a certain educational influence which tends in most cases to better their mental condition. It must not be forgotten that, with regard to a large part of the frequenters of the Library, the alternative is not whether they shall read books of a high or of a low grade, but whether they shall read books of amusing fiction, or not read at all. Your Committee, on consideration of these facts, has concluded not to deprecate the encouragement of novel-reading; but it, nevertheless, greets with pleasure every sign of improvement in the public taste, and every measure designed to raise the standard of reading. this connection we find cause for satisfaction in the strikingly beneficial effects produced by the new Class list of books in History, Biography, and Travel, in the Lower Hall, devised by the Superintendent and prepared under his direc-The object of this innovation was to make the lighter literary resources of the Lower Hall a stepping-stone, as it were, to the higher grades of intellectual culture attainable in the Bates Hall. The effect during the last eight months, has been to raise by 75 per cent, the use of books comprised in the departments above specified (i. e. History, Biography, and Travel), while the addition to the amount of fiction used has been less than three per cent. We learn, moreover, that this beneficial influence on the frequenters of the Lower Hall has gone on increasing to such an extent that, if we compare the month of June of the last Library year with the month of June just expired, we find in the reading of History, etc., an increase of 200 per cent., while the entire reading of that Hall has only increased $\frac{1}{9}$ per cent. beyond the figures of the year before. Besides this effect produced upon the quality of the reading in the Lower Hall, there is no doubt that a considerable number of readers have been led to make use of the Bates Hall collection, who without the assistance of the "Class list" would have remained habitués of the Lower Hall.

We find other grounds for satisfaction if we compare the increase of circulation apparent at the close of the last Library year in the Bates Hall and in the Lower Hall. When speaking of the total daily use of the entire Library, we found a marked increase from year to year, as shown by the series of tractions $\frac{1}{156}$, $\frac{1}{137}$ and $\frac{1}{122}$. If we apply the same calculations to the figures belonging respectively to the Bates Hall and to the Lower Hall, we find that while, on the one hand, the daily circulation of the Lower Hall has been for the last four years nearly stationary, the proportion of issues to the number of volumes remaining about the same; on the other hand, the daily average circulation of the Bates Hall has been rapidly increasing from year to year. Thus, the average daily circulation of the Lower Hall, obtained by dividing the total number of books by the average number of daily issues, was, in 1872, $\frac{1}{39}$; in 1873, $\frac{1}{42}$, and in 1874, $\frac{1}{39}$. In the Bates Hall, the corresponding fractions are for 1872, $\frac{1}{875}$; for 1873, $\frac{1}{778}$; and for 1874 (excluding the Barton Library), $\frac{1}{657}$; in other words, while in 1872 one book in 875 was used daily, in 1874 the proportion of books called into daily use was one in 657.

The rapid yearly increase in the use made of the Bates Hall collection by the public, compared with the nearly stationary clientage of the Lower Hall, is very apparent, and shows that a distinct educational influence is exerted by the Library upon the public. It must be remembered, as your Committee were reminded by the Superintendent, that the Library is not dealing with a permanent body of readers, whose literary education it may be held to be effecting. Each year brings to it, with each succeeding generation, as it were, a fresh levy of raw recruits, who start from the lowest grade of literary culture, and swell the ranks of the readers of fiction who frequent the Lower Hall.

It was feared by some that the various Branch Libraries that have of late years been established would divert a portion of its readers from the Central Library, and so get them away from its influence. This is far from being the case, however, as shown by Mr. Winsor's Report, and the reciprocal effect of the Parent Library, and of its Branches upon each other, has been to increase the number of readers on both sides.

Your Committee desire to call attention to the valuable labors of the Superintendent in the different departments of Especially is the institution fortunate in havthe Library. ing an officer who appreciates bibliographical research. careful and critical examination of the rare books which the Library possesses, the means taken for the preservation of all valuable papers and documents, the excellent classification which has been made of them, the publication of interesting facts in the "Bulletin," and the merits of rare books given therein, are of great importance to the public, and it is very much indebted to the Superintendent for this valuable work. the same time, we would not forget to bestow deserved commendation upon all the officers of the Library for the excellent manner in which the work of the institution is performed, making its management an honor to the City and an example worthy of imitation by similar institutions of the country.

By no means an unimportant part of the work done at the Library under the supervision of the Superintendent, and by his initiation, is the collection and arrangement of the statistical tables, which give most clearly, and at the same time, most minutely, a mass of very valuable information, relating to the working of the Library, considered in every detail of its administration, and from every point of view. From these data, which are now being collected every year at our Public Library, and which no similar institution as yet affords in such variety, a most interesting study is being made of what we will venture to call the Physiology of a Public Library. Thanks to Mr. Winsor's careful and minute analysis of the working of the institution committed to his charge, here is every reason to believe that the maximum degree of efficiency is rapidly being attained for the Library.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT.

To the Trustees: —

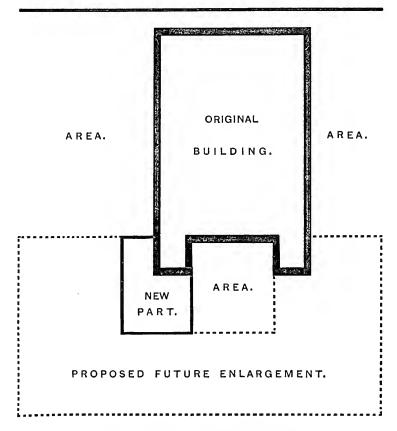

Gentlemen, — I herewith present my Seventh Annual Report, and referring you to the appendixes for the body of the information which you have a right to expect, I shall touch here but a few points that need further elucidation.

During the year a high-service stand-pipe has been introduced into the south-eastern tower of the Central Library, by the concurrent action of the Cochituate Water Board and the Committee on Public Buildings. A sufficient supply of hose is kept coiled on the various levels, and is always attached for sudden use in case of fire. The fire-proof protections to the large lantern and small skylights of the roof have been provided; but the means of hoisting hose to that elevation, without dragging it through the alcoves, has not yet been supplied, — a delay which I much regret and which might cause serious results, in case of a conflagration in neighboring buildings.* All the iron shutters on the building, except those of the janitor's apartments, are nightly closed, and with the sail-cloth which has been provided to place between the window frames and the shutters, and the means which we have of keeping it wet, it is expected that the amplest security is attained against such violent attacks of external fire as might cause even the shutters to curl. It is in contemplation by the Committee on Public Buildings, to whom is entrusted the erection of the enlargement of the south-western tower during the coming year, to maintain an even higher standard of non-combustibility in that new addition, the appropriation for which has been very considerately allowed by the City Council. It will increase the official apartments of the Library, provide for an enlargement of the bindery, afford separate rooms for two or more of our special collections, give the frequenters of our Patent Room the accommodations which they have long felt the want of, and in every way add to the efficiency of the Library.

The new addition has been planned with a view to making it a part of a still further enlargement, which shall have its rear line on Van Rensselaer place, with an open area to supply light and air in the immediate rear of the main building, while this area shall be flanked by an extension of the present towers. The lateral wings, on each side of the main edifice, with their front on a line with the rear of the present structure, would command from their windows a view of the Common, thus:—

Van Rensselaer Place.

The heavy lines represent the present building, the light lines the new addition of the coming year, and the dotted line the further combination and enlargement.

Since the date of my last Report the building belonging to the Fellowes Athenaum, and leased to the City for the Roxbury Branch, has been completed, and after an occupancy of nine months, it has been found in every particular adapted to the administration, and is recognized by those conversant with the requirements of a popular Library as more fully meeting those requirements than is the case with any other recent erection.

By the annexation of Charlestown the Public Library of that city became a Branch of this institution, and the rooms which it occupied in the second story of the City Hall in that place not being large enough to meet an increased demand, or even the old demand for space, representation was made in conjunction with the retiring Board of Trustees of the Charlestown Library (under whom, during its independence, that Library had been administered) to the Committee on Public Buildings, that, in consequence of the changes incident to the consolidation of the offices of the two cities, the rooms of the Mystic Water Board could be added with advantage to the original quarters of that library. The action of the Committee was prompt, the consent of the City Council to an appropriation was easily gained, and during the summer the results desired will be secured. Some rearrangement of cases will be required, and perhaps the introduction at once of classifications of the books, such as have not been observed there in the past. The retiring government of the City of Charlestown transferred to that Branch some large paintings which had adorned the Council Chambers in the upper stories of the building, and such of the furniture of the Aldermen's room as would be of use in furnishing the new reading-room.

The annexation of Brighton converted the Holton Library, which had been maintained by that town as a Public Library, into the Brighton Branch of the Public Library of Boston. Under an appropriation by the town, embracing $18,000 for land, $1,500 as the proceeds of the sale of a building which was upon the land, and $30,000 for erecting a building, the construction of a Library had gone forward under the supervision of a building committee composed jointly from the Trustees of the Holton Library and from the citizens, and at the time of the vote for annexation, it was nearly ready for roofing. A meeting was held at an early day, when this Building Committee met a Committee of the Trustees of this Library, and some slight changes in the interior planning of the new Library were agreed upon, to adapt it more closely to the system upon which our Branches are conducted, and which had proved successful at East Boston, South Boston, and Roxbury. The changes in the permanent interior walls consisted solely of the widening of door-ways, in order to give the closer relations of parts which prompt and economical administration required. Delays, beyond the control of the Trustees, since the city acquired possession of the property, have prevented the prompt approach to completion which was looked for at that time, and the better part of the summer must, I fear, be consumed before the books can be moved, and everything be prepared for opening it to the public. Meanwhile the Library is maintained, as in the past, in rather cramped quarters, which are a part of the old Town Hall.

The action of the City Council in making an appropriation for the establishment of the sixth Branch in Dorchester, during the coming year, has thrown upon the Committee on Public Buildings the necessity of providing a building. Action on their part is expected at an early day.

The tables of the Appendix show an increased activity in every department. It is conclusively proved by the figures given, that the influence of the Central Library upon the Branches is beneficial, and that the large clientage of users which they acquire for themselves does not diminish the usefulness of the Central Library, but, on the other hand, both in the popular department and in the Bates Hall, its circulation is acquiring an extent unprecedented in their history, and far in advance of the results obtained before the parent Library had extended its influence through any one of its five Branches. The result is not surprising to those who have scanned narrowly the influences which public libraries exert upon communities.

The Roxbury Branch has necessarily advanced in extent beyond the others. This is owing to the beneficent policy of the City, which has provided, by contract with the Fellowes Athenœum, that the income of the Athenœum's funds shall go to increase the books of that Branch, in addition to the proportion allotted to it under the general appropriation. About $250 a month is the sum at present given to this special increase, and it is gratifying to find that the higher class of books, such as are purchased with this sum, find appreciative readers. It is to be hoped that the success of this coöperation may induce similar private benefactions in connection with the other Branches. That such must in time be the case is quite clear from the information which has reached the Library authorities of the remembrances which have found a place in the last testaments of residents in the neighborhood of other Branches.

The South Boston Branch, although now the smallest of these dependencies, gives gratifying proof of its usefulness in the large circulation which it has maintained; and it is alike a credit to the people of that district and to the system of the Library, that out of 108,000 volumes which have during the year been entrusted to borrowers, every one has been returned to the shelves. Indeed, the immunity from loss in this direction, as shown by one of the Appendixes, is as remarkable as it is gratifying. The percentage of loss in the outlying districts, where borrowers are more easily tracked when they become delinquent, is almost too small to be considered. In the city proper, the difficulties of identification and pursuit are much increased, from the intricacies of a social system on so large a scale, and from the facility with which delinquents can conceal their removals from one place to another, and where neighborly acquaintance is not so close as in the lesser segregations of the surrounding districts. Yet, from the Central Library the loss is trifling, and, almost always, it is in such books as can be easily and cheaply replaced.

The Sunday use of the Reading Rooms for Periodicals has now had the experience of a full Library year. At the Central Reading Room the use of the periodicals has been fully equal to expectations, and there can be no question of the gratification and advantage which the privilege has given to many people. So considerable is the number that the care and expense involved are well justified. At the Branches, the advantage has not been so marked, but the constant tendency to increase of use is encouraging for the future. The following figures will be of interest in this connection:—

READING ROOMS.	No. of Magazines.	Sundays Open.	Average issue per Sunday for the year.	Largest average issue per Sun- day in any month.
Central	418	52	421	603, Jan.
East Boston	41	52	141	241, Jan.
South Boston	41	52	132	226, Nov.
Roxbury (10 months)	67	43	74	132, Feb.
Charlestown (4 months)	82	16	82	91, Feb.
Brighton (4 months)	23	17

At Brighton no record is possible in the present arrangement of the Reading Room. At Charlestown the use of one London and five New York dailies, kept on the tables, is not counted.

By Appendix I, it will be seen that the entire Library now possesses about 260,550 volumes, an extent that permits no other library on the continent to outrank it; while it possesses in the Bates Hall collection (166,453 volumes), a reference as well as circulating Library, surpassed by none other in America in value, or in the due subordination and relative strength of its classifications. The whole, moreover, is indexed and made accessible through a catalogue system, not inferior to any other in ramification and thoroughness.

The work in the Catalogue department has gone on as satisfactorily as heretofore. The ordinary accessions are already swelling the extent of the Cards, both in the Public and in the Official Card Catalogue so greatly that ampler accommodations for each will be required during the coming year.

Beside the work on the ordinary accessions during the year, the cataloguing of the Ticknor Library has been brought near completion, and it is now reckoned that the subsequent revision can be proceeded with during the coming summer, and that the printed volume, for which the City Council have already appropriated the money, will be ready for the public in the course of the new year. Meanwhile, since the receipt of the Barton Library, considerable labor has been expended upon its books in preparing them for the shelves, and upon the large mass of printed and manuscript excerpts, engravings, music, autographs and bibliographical correspondence, which Mr. Barton had accumulated during thirty years of careful collecting. This accumulation, which chiefly concerns the Shakespearian portion of his Library, has been arranged for binding and placed in scrap-books, and, with that portion of his Library which still needs binding, will amount to about 1,200 volumes, as thus finally arranged. These, added to the bound volumes, will swell the aggregate of the Barton Library to over 12,000 volumes, of which about 3,000 volumes belong to the Shakespearian department. It is hoped during the coming year to get all these bound, and to complete all the preliminary work which belongs to the shelf department, before the room in the new tower, destined to receive the collection, is ready. By that time it is anticipated that Mr. Wheeler and his assistants can begin work on the special Catalogue, which is to be made for this collection.

In August last the long-delayed and consolidated Class-list of books in History, Biography, and Travel in the Lower Hall was ready for the public. The new features in popular cataloguing which it presented soon produced the results which were hoped for. The notes appended to the principal cross-references, and intended to assist readers in the choice of books, had a very marked effect upon the character of the circulation in the Lower Hall. As these notes were also intended to bring more prominently before the class of readers which frequents that department, the resources of the higher classifications of the Bates Hall, a considerable share of the increase of use of that hall must be ascribed to the influence of these notes, though from statistics it is not easy to indicate the proportions. In the Lower Hall, however, the figures of the circulation can be brought to a demonstration. Although but eight months of the year are covered by its effects, the returns of the entire year show an increase over last year of books used in those departments of 75 per cent., while the additional use of fiction is less than three per cent. It has also resulted in reducing the percentage of fiction issued in the popular department (Lower Hall) of the Central Library to less than 72 per cent. of the entire issues of that collection, which is several hundredths below the average maintained in the past, or ordinarily found in free public libraries. Taking the entire reading of the Central Library, the use of fiction is probably not far from 55 per cent. of the whole issues.

I do not share the opinions held by many, who indulge in a wholesale denunciation of the reading of novels. After several years' observation, I am fully cognizant of the fact that the censure of fiction is a good deal a matter of class feeling educationally speaking. Books of one literary grade are held to be valueless by critics on a higher one, who do not appreciate the fact that lower grades of readers should be supplied with mental pabulum suited to their powers of assimilation. The failure to allow for this difference in readers is, I think, at the bottom of many unconsidered assertions regarding the character of certain writers, and the literary necessities of corresponding classes of readers. Nevertheless, there can be nothing more deserving of official recognition, or of the encouragement of those who are fortunate in literary culture, than endeavors to improve the standard of that reading which free libraries supply. The question is only one of method, and it seems to me that persuasion and kindly assistance to the unskilled in books is a more gracious procedure than to deprive them of the only books that allure them to partake of the Library stores. First of all, the mass of ordinary readers must be made to frequent the Library. They are then within its influence, and endeavors to benefit their tastes will, as I think our experiment has shown, accomplish a good result, if the efforts are unremitting. another year will show that the work thus inaugurated will gather strength as it goes on.

It is not just to judge of the literary taste of a community by the reading of its free popular libraries. A large class buy their better reading, and depend upon libraries for the ephemeral novels, which are the talk of the hour. The laborer, or the weary tradesman, notwithstanding his bookcase of the classics of his tongue at home, calls at the Library after his day's work to get a book to supply a pastime, not to advance a study, for which his exhausted energies leave no chance. Public libraries may not fulfil their highest mission in providing mere recreation, but it is for this only, by the nature of the case, that a considerable proportion of the population can find them of benefit.

I have, during the year, made the matter of the public reading in its hygienic relations, the subject of conference with the late Dr. Derby, the very capable Secretary of the State Board of Health, and have had his assurance of the value of the investigations, which I am in hopes of reducing in the future into an order that may yield some profitable conclusions. That the seasons, and even "spells of weather," and events which touch large masses of the population, affect the extent of the Library's circulation, is patent; but that such causes, including epidemics, - whether of a bodily or mental nature, - such as result from disease, financial panics, or engrossing topics of thought, produce results in the character of the reading, I am equally convinced, though it will need large observation to array the proofs, and careful scrutiny to allow for other disturbing influences. in hopes to be able to present this aspect of our experience in something like a satisfactory fashion, at some future time.

Upon the request of the Commissioner of Education at Washington, there were sent, early in the year, to the Exposition at Vienna, a set of the Catalogues of the Library, its reports and other documents, and a series of blanks, illustrating its methods. Regarding these volumes, Mr. John D. Philbrick, Superintendent of the Public Schools of this city, who went to Vienna as a Special Commissioner, wrote under date of August 22, "You sent here a fine set of documents illustrating the character and workings of the Boston Public I am sorry you did not get a prize, for you well deserved a very high one; but you unfortunately were excluded under the rule, adopted by the General Direction, providing that an exhibitor receiving the highest honor can receive no other for any special exhibit. And as the City of Boston got the Grand Diploma of Honor, and as the jury considered that the Library was an exhibit belonging to the city, it could have no separate recognition. But it was certain that there was not in all the Exposition so complete and comprehensive a library exhibit as that made by you." The seven volumes, handsomely bound, thus referred to, were subsequently presented to the Imperial Library of Vienna, and duly acknowledged.

I may state that during the year a second edition, with some enlargement, of the Handbook for Readers has been called for; and that the quarterly Bulletins have been continued as in the past.

In conclusion, I may refer to the liberal and graceful act of the late Mayor of the City, the Honorable Henry L. Pierce, who, in testimony of his regard for the Library, has laid his fellow-citizens under increased obligations, by giving to our funds, free of all restrictions, $5,000. This will be known hereafter as the Pierce Fund.

Respectfully submitted,

JUSTIN WINSOR,

Superintendent.

Public Library, May 8, 1874.

 $[\]S$ Including 3,774 volumes of the Ticknor bequest, and 2,682 from the Sumner Library Association.

^{} Included in previous columns. These volumes are not the property of the Public Library, but form a part of the Roxbury Branch by agreement.

Note. The increase of this year includes the totals of the libraries at Charlestown and Brighton; and also, under purchases, the Barton Library, 12,057 vols.

NOTE. — Of the volumes lost from the Bates Hall some reappear each year, while a few in excess disappear, increasing the aggregate loss a little; so that it is probable the figures of the Bates Hall collection are a trifle in excess of what an actual count would indicate.

[§]Includes 31 vols. of MSS, as bound. When received they were mostly in stitched brochures, several of which are now bound in one volume. The remainder of the difference between these figures and those for the previous year arose from some discrepancy in the count of pamphlets destined for volumes.

^{||} Divided into 1,981 volumes for the English; 143 volumes for the American; and 199 volumes for the French specifications and drawings. Included before 1873 in the General Library. Now in charge of a special Curator.

^{* 3.576} are books of the Ticknor Library, then assigned to permanent places, \dagger Includes 31 vols. of the Ticknor MSS.

Pamphlets. During the year the Curator of pamphlets has continued the arrangement of all the loose pamphlets by subjects, etc., in the Cabinet Room; and such as were duplicates and not needed have been arranged in adjacent apartments.

NOTE.—The above figures of the special collections, excepting the Patent Library, which is yearly increased, exhibit them as when received in the Public Library and assigned to our shelves. There have been since then some small additions to them, chiefly from continuations of scriats, but such accessions are counted in the classes of the general Library, though the books are located with the special collection. The increase of the Ticknor Library will hereafter be considerable from the fund left by the donor; but the accession will appear in this table under the increase of the General Library.

The annual increase of the Patent Library is included in the last column of the Special Libraries, and not in the yearly locations of the General Library.

The column " May 1, 1874," does not include the totals of the Patent Library, or of the other special libraries.

[†] During the year an attempt has been made to separate the slips of persons believed now to be using the Library, distinguishing them by the fact of their visiting the libraries during the year, and the result, which is of course but approximate, shows that nearly 40,000 cards may be considered alive.

[‡] Includes 1,273 names registered before annexation.

Note. — In computing this percentage, the use of books in the Bowditch, Parker, and Prince Libraries, — which are kept apart from the general classifications of the Library, — is reckoned as nearly as possible and included in the usual divisions, as is indicated in the table. See Explanations to Appendix IX.

The want of a Catalogue to the Spanish books of the Ticknor Library has continued to prevent any use of those books which would enter into the statistics.

Our financial and 'library years now nominally correspond, but it will happen that bills accounting subsequently to the middle of March (when the last requisition of the year, payable April 18th, is approved) will be audiced in the subsequent year's account, beginning nominally May 1st. In this way books added between March 15th and May 1st may be counted in one year's growth, and paid for in the subsequent year's account. The money for Books bought on account of the Fellowes Athensum is spent under the direction of the Book Committee of the Trustees of the Fellowes Fund.

APPENDIX XXIV.

REPORT ON THE EXAMINATION OF THE LIBRARY,

To the Superintendent: -

Sir,—During the year ending the 30th of April, 1874, an examination has been made of the Central Library, and the East Boston, South Boston and Roxbury Branches, upon which I beg leave to present the following REPORT.

In the Bates Hall there we	ere	missing	from	the	shelves at the time of examinati	ion					2,621	vols.

The usual care has been taken, and persistent search has been made for these missing books, but many are without doubt misplaced, and can only be found after another examination of the alcoves.

Of the 30 volumes reported missing last year, 20 have been found during the present examination; showing that in so large a Library there is an increasing chance of books being returned to the wrong alcoves, and so temporarily missed.

Five of the pamphlets which were reported missing at the first examination in 1869, have been found during the year, as it was then supposed they would be, bound with other pamphlets; also three books which were reported missing in 1870 have been found.

In the Lower Hall there v	vere	missing	from	the	shelves

Three of these missing volumes have been added within the past year, and cannot be traced since their location; six have been lent during the year, and the remainder have not been charged to borrowers, and are not recent accessions.

Of the volumes reported missing last year, seven have been found during the present examination, wrongly numbered; also there have appeared in their proper places three other volumes — one missing in 1871, one missing in 1869, and one which was marked on the shelf-list as missing in 1867.

The number of books missing from each alcove is as follows:—
